Dear Sir/Madam:

Re: Name Change from Denison Arizona Strip LLC to EFR Arizona Strip LLC

On June 29, 2012, Energy Fuels Inc. acquired all of Denison Mines Corp.'s U.S. mining assets and operations, through the acquisition of the shares of all of Denison's U.S. subsidiaries, including Denison Arizona Strip LLC.

On July 26, 2012 Energy Fuels Inc. changed the name of Denison Arizona Strip LLC to EFR Arizona Strip LLC. Therefore, the name on the claims listed on attached Schedules 1 and 2 need to be changed from Denison Arizona Strip LLC to EFR Arizona Strip LLC. It is important to note that the entity has not changed, just the name of the entity. To reflect the name change, enclosed please find an approved Amendment to Articles of Organization filed with and accepted by the Arizona Corporation Commission.

Finally, the address for EFR Arizona Strip LLC has changed, please send future correspondence to:

EFR Arizona Strip LLC
Attn: Meredith Goble
225 Union Blvd., Ste. 600
Lakewood, Colorado 80228

Please make a note of these changes in your records, and feel free to contact me directly at mgoble@energyfuels.com or 303.389.4155 with any future correspondence regarding this matter.

Yours very truly,

IBLA 86-1217	)
SOUTHWEST RESEARCH COUNCIL	)	AZ 010-86-047
Appellant,	)
ENERGY FUELS NUCLEAR, INC.	)	GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER
Intervenor.	)

On May 19, 1986, Southwest Resource Council filed a timely Notice of Appeal from the Arizona Strip District, Bureau of Land Management, April 25, 1986, decision to approve Energy Fuels Nuclear, Inc. modified Plan of Operations for the operation of the Pinenut project which is a uranium property situated approximately 3.6 miles north of the Grand Canyon National Park. An extensive Environmental Assessment accompanied the approval. The Arizona Strip District is comprised of approximately 3.5 million acres of land north of the Grand Canyon extending north to the Utah border and West to the Nevada Border. The strip is divided in resource management areas and the mine is within the Vermillion Resource Area. The locator, Energy Fuels, filed a Petition to Intervene which was granted by the Board on August 20. Southwest Resource Council after a 60 day extension of time submitted its Statement of Reasons under date of August 21. The following is submitted in Answer thereto on behalf of the Bureau of Land Management.

1 Except for the fact that the subject property is not within a 2 Wilderness Study Area, this appeal gives every appearance of being 3 a rerun of Southwest Resource Council, Inc., 73 IBLA 39 (May 11, 4 1983). Energy Fuels is the locator,; Southwest is the Appellant; 5 the approval of proposed plan of operation to explore for uranium 6 was the subject matter there while in the present case is a 7 proposed modification of a plan of operation; the BLM prepared an 8 Environmental Assessment finding no significant impacts, and 9 Southwest contending that a EIS should be prepared. Result: the 10 decision appealed from was affirmed. The same result should be 11 reached in the present case for the same reasons as extensively 12 discussed therein. That case actually set the tone for subsequent 13 Board cases. See John A. Nejedly, 80 IBLA 14 (March 28, 1984); 14 Tulkisarmute Native Community Council ET AL, 83 IBLA 210 (August 15 28, 1985); Utah Wilderness Association, 91 I.D. 165 (March 30, 16 1984). The latter case at pp. 173-74 says it in the simplest 17 terms:

18
19 Generally, a determination that a proposed 20 action will not have a significant impact on 21 the environment will be affirmed on appeal
22 where the record establishes that a careful 23 review of environmental problems has been 24 made, relevant areas of environmental concern
25 have been identified, and the final deter-
26 mination is reasonable in light of the environmental analysis.

1 BLM is required under NEPA to develop a record reflecting 2 consideration of all relevant factors. An EA serves as a record
3 of environmental discussion precedent to the threshold deter-
4 mination as to whether a full environmental impact statement
5 should be prepared. Dolores M. Lisman, 67 IBLA 72(1982). Further 6 no environmental impact statement is required where the record 7 establishes that relevant areas of environmental concern have been 8 identified and the determination is the reasonable result of 9 environmental analysis made in light of measures to minimize the 10 environmental impact. Such a determination is not overcome by a 11 stated difference of opinion, unsupported by independent proof, 12 alleging the environmental analysis is erroneous. Tulkisarmute 13 Native Community Council ET AL, supra. Finally, one only needs to 14 look to the length of and in depth analysis of the project EA to 15 reach the inescapable conclusion that the negative determination 16 was arrived at after considerable accumulation of detail, 17 extensive review, and the implementation of mitigation require-18 ments in land with the concern raised during the public comment
19 period. The discussion of Judge Burski in his concurring opinion 20 is Nejedly, supra, at page 24 in regard to a "negative 21 declaration" is illuminating:

22
23 xxx, I think it is important to note that the 24 "negative declaration" is, itself, the product 25 of a considerable amount of analysis of the 26 possible environmental consequences which

1 might emanate from the proposed prospecting
2 activities. Thus, the final environmental 3 analysis (EA) prepared by the Geological 4 Survey (Survey) in assessing the proposed 5 activities on permit CA-1698 consists of 6 approximately 200 pages. This is in addition 7 to the environmental assessment report pre-8 pared by the Forest Service with reference to 9 activities to Pederson's unpatented mining 10 claims, a document running more than 50 pages.
And these reports are, themselves, merely the final distillation of detailed studies into the full array of environmental consequences which might be anticipated. The negative declaration in this case is not an attempt to avoid analysis of environmental consequences but rather represents the considered conclusion of Survey after those consequences have, in fact, been analyzed.

11 To use a word employed by appellant's counsel, to say that the BLM 12 didn't arrive at a considered conclusion after extensive analysis, 13 would be "nonsensical".

14
15 BLM Mineral Program

16
17 The utilization of the nation's mineral resources in the growth of 18 the United States is well documented. It continues today and is 19 encouraged. Management responsibility of the minerals on the public 20 lands is vested in the Bureau of Land Management. The most recent 21 legislation implementing management policy are reflected in the 22 Mining and Minerals Act of 1970, the Federal Land Policy and Manage-23 ment Act (FLPMA), and the National Materials and Minerals Policy
24 Research and Development Act of 1980.

1 In March of 1980 the Department of Interior published the draft 43 2 CFR 3809 regulations on surface management responsibilities for 3 Mining Claims located on Public Lands. These regulations were to 4 govern the extraction of minerals located under the Mining Laws.
5 In order to meet the Departments responsibilities under FLPMA, the 6 Mining and Minerals Policy Act of 1970 and the National Environ-7 mental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA) (83 Stat. 832 U.S.L.) an EIS was 8 prepared to assess the impacts of implementing these regulations.
9 After public review, the final EIS on Surface Management of Public 10 Lands under the U.S. Mining Law, 43 CFR 3809, was approved in 11 August of 1980. The final "3809 regulations," were made effective 12 January 1, 1981 (45 FR 78902; 43 CFR Subpart 3809).

13
14 The purpose of the 3809 regulations is to establish a procedure to 15 prevent unnecessary or undue degradation of federal lands which may 16 result from operations authorized by the mining laws (43 CFR 17 3809.0-1).

18
19 The objectives of these regulations are to provide for Mineral 20 entry, exploration, location, operations and purchase in a manner 21 that will not unduly hinder such activities but will assure the 22 activities are conducted in a manner to prevent unnecessary or 23 undue degradation; to provide for reclamation of disturbed area and 24 to coordinate with the appropriate state agencies procedures for 25 prevention of unnecessary or undue degradation with respect to 26 mineral operations (43 CFR 3809.0-2).

1 It is the policy of these regulations and the Department of the 2 Interior to encourage the development of federal mineral resources
3 and reclamation of disturbed lands. Under the mining laws a person 4 has a statutory right, consistent with Department regulations, to 5 go upon the open (unappropriated and unreserved) federal lands for 6 the purpose of mineral prospecting, exploration, development, 7 extraction and other uses reasonably incident thereto. This 8 statutory right carries with it the responsibility to assure that 9 operations include adequate and responsible measures to prevent 10 unnecessary or undue degradation of the federal lands and to pro-11 vide for reasonable reclamation (43 CFR 3809.0-6).

12
13 In order to prevent unnecessary or undue degradation of the public 14 lands, the BLM prepared the subject EA. This was permissible under 15 NEPA because the Act gives each agency the discretion to implement 16 its own procedures to insure the protection of the environment.
17 The format used by the BLM was proper in that it analyzed the 18 action, determined reasonable alternatives, environmental conse-
19 quences, and appropriate mitigation measures for the Pinenut Plan 20 of Operations. The result of the EA was that the threshold was not 21 crossed and therefore the preparation of a EIS was not necessary.

1 Specific Responses to Appellant's Contentions

3 A. ALLEGED FAILURE TO EVALUATE CUMULATIVE IMPACTS.

5 The BLM's conclusion that the Pinenut Plan-of-Operation and 6 EA have insignificant environmental impacts is based on the cumula-7 tive analysis and a much more in-depth analysis of direct and 8 specific impacts (40 CFR 1500.1b). See EA pages 49-86.

9 BLM prepared an environmental assessment based on the best 10 available environmental information, including the studies that 11 were contracted by consultants for the explicit purpose of deter-
12 mining the impacts of the Pinenut Plan-of-Operation. See EA pages 13 115-117. In addition, these studies, as well as BLM's own evalua-14 tions cover the entire range of expected impacts, not just 15 cumulative as stated by the Appellant.

16 The Appellant has grossly misused some information provided to 17 them in an FOIA request by BLM. (362 plans or actions). The 18 Appellant does not state what actions have been taken by either BLM 19 or the claimant. This statement is extremely misleading in that a 20 significant number have had no activities.

21 The entire Environmental Assessment and Decision Record
22 (except cumulative impact) was written to determine if EFN's pro-
23 posal could proceed without causing undue and unnecessary degrada-24 tion as well as to identify reasonable alternatives and mitigation.
25 (EA pages 6, 7 and 80-97 and DR). BLM disagrees with the Appel-
26 lants opinion that BLM failed to take a hard look at the cumulative

1 impacts of adding the Pinenut project to "other past, present and 2 reasonably foreseeable mining and exploration activities in the 3 vicinity," since the Pinenut proposal was analyzed against the 4 existing situation which included all past mineral activities.

5 BLM also disagrees with the Appellants statement that the 6 analysis of cumulative impacts was "approached in a piece meal 7 fashion, failed to address specific cumulative impacts that have 8 concerned other federal and state agencies, unrealistically
9 assesses foreseeable uranium activities, and treats surface impacts 10 in a fashion that is meaningless." BLM also contends that the 11 Appellant has failed to show any substantive proof or reasons to 12 the above allegations. Therefore, BLM must conclude that Pinenut 13 Environmental Analysis is sufficient to protect the environment
14 from unnecessary and undue degradation and that it does satisfy 15 FLPMA, NEPA and 43 CFR 3809.

16 17 1. BACKGROUND AND STANDARDS OF REVIEW

19 BLM prepared an Environmental Assessment specifically to:
20 "assess the potential environmental impacts of the modification and 21 to identify if any feasible/reasonable alternatives to the Plan-of-22 Operation exists to reduce or eliminate those impacts." (See EA 23 at 6).

24 Furthermore, pursuant to 43 CFR 3809.2-1, "the Environ-
25 mental Assessment is used to determine the adequacy of mitigation 26 measures and reclamation procedures included in the plan to insure

1 the prevention of unnecessary and undue degradation of the public
2 land." Appellant offers no comment on any of the alternatives or 3 mitigation that was identified in the EA or required by the 4 Decision Record to support their contention that BLM did not anal-5 yze impacts or provide mitigation to prevent that very situation.

6 The Appellant has attempted to make a case that although 7 each individual mineral activity is insignificant (including 8 Pinenut) that when considering all mineral actions together they 9 may be significant especially if all the potential reasonable fore-10 seeable actions are incorporated. Not considering the misuse and 11 interpretations of NEPA, the BLM in fact has made the evaluation of 12 Pinenut very much as the Appellant has suggested. All of the past 13 mineral actions are considered in the existing environment. The 14 proposed action or Pinenut Plan-of-Operation is then evaluated 15 against the existing environment.

16 As discussed previously in Section II potential future
17 mines do not constitute proposals or parts of proposals and there-18 fore do not have to be evaluated in an EA. Furthermore, BLM could 19 not deny a plan simply because another unrelated potential proposal 20 may cause future adverse impacts. That evaluation would have to 21 take place when the actual proposal is made. Additional informa-22 tion on cumulative analysis and reasonable foreseeable will be 23 covered later. Appellant claims there is ample evidence to show
24 BLM's piece meal approach, states BLM presented distorted impacts 25 and considers many relevant aspects of the analysis but does not 26 present any examples to support these accusations.

1 2. THE EA'S TREATMENT OF CUMULATIVE IMPACTS IS NOT A 2 "HARD LOOK" NOR DOES IT MAKE A "CONVINCING CASE."

4 The Appellant claims that Pinenut EA does not take a hard 5 look at cumulative impacts and does not analyze the impacts in a 6 unified fashion. They state that the first cumulative impacts
7 section does not take into account Pinenut or other reasonable 8 foreseeable activities and the second cumulative impacts section is 9 short and inadequate.

10 BLM took a hard look at Pinenut and made every effort to 11 identify the individual as well as cumulative impacts of all past, 12 present and reasonably foreseeable mining activities on the Arizona 13 Strip (EA pages 17-92 and Bibliography pages 115-117, particularly 14 the Air Quality Analysis, Enecotech 1985, 1986, and Radiological 15 Impact Analysis, McLVain 1985 and 1986).

16 Pinenut Cumulative Impacts Analysis consists of much more 17 than just two parts. The presentation of the Existing Environment 18 sets the stage to evaluate both the proposed action, the alterna-
19 tives, potential hazard analysis (worst case) and cumulative 20 impacts. (EA pages 17-56). The Proposed Action presents the 21 environmental analysis and impacts of Pinenut against the Existing 22 Environment and clearly sets the stage for the environmental factor 23 that could potentially lead to cumulative impacts. (EA pages 24 57-84).

1 The Pinenut cumulative impacts analysis section first 2 discusses exploration activities from 1980 through 1985. Note on 3 page 49 is a complete representation on every activity that has 4 caused surface disturbance. Thus BLM has shown how the complete
5 picture translates to the acres of exploration disturbance. BLM 6 then makes the addition of cumulative surface disturbance resulting 7 from each production area and then summarizes all surface impacts, 8 including mine yards, access both new and upgraded, and miles of 9 powerline. (EA at page 52). BLM also describes how production is 10 off set by reclamation, as one mine is approved reclamation soon 11 commences on others. (EA at page 52).

12 Through further analysis of cumulative impacts (EA page 13 53) BLM summarized to total amount of disturbance in comparison to 14 the total amount of reclamation. Furthermore, BLM has discussed, 15 how the cumulative impacts from exploration have effected, vegeta-
16 tion, wildlife, soils, air quality, water quality, remoteness, 17 social/economic structure. (EA pages 54-56).

18 BLM then continues its analysis by adding the cumulative 19 impacts of production, by providing analysis of effects on surface 20 disturbance, visual impacts, wildlife, air quality, water quality.
21 All of the above sections are found in the existing environment.
22 The first cumulative impacts analysis is a part of the existing 23 environment and so does not consider the impact of adding Pinenut.

1 In the Analysis of the Proposed Action BLM presents both 2 the individual and cumulative impacts of adding Pinenut to the 3 existing situation (EA pages 57-85). Since the cumulative impacts 4 resulting from Pinenut are minor the discussion is brief and direct.

5 In addition to the separate analysis of Cumulative Impacts
6 with Pinenut and other Reasonably Foreseeable actions (EA at 84-86) 7 the entire section of anticipated impacts of the proposed action is 8 indeed a statement of what effects the addition of Pinenut will have 9 on the existing situation or environment. This analysis in itself 10 is an extensive evaluation of the addition of Pinenut compared to 11 the existing environment. This evaluation covers in-depth the 12 effects of Pinenut on all parts of the human environment including; 13 air shed, climatology, precipitation, winds, air quality, water 14 resources, soils geology, topography, radiological impact-(airborne, 15 radioactivity, radon, transportation, radon gas progeny and radia-16 tion in the mine environment) acoustical impact, big game, birds of 17 prey, non-game, carnivores and radiological impacts and hauling 18 impacts to wildlife, vegetation, archaeological resources, popula-
19 tion, social conditions, economic/employment conditions, public 20 attitudes, wilderness resources, visual resources, visibility, 21 ranching, recreation, suitability, compatibility, and at least six 22 Potential Hazard Analysis (worst case) on air quality and visibility 23 impacts. BLM used the best state of the art information and 24 modeling techniques to specifically discuss how the addition of 25 Pinenut would affect the environment.

26 //

1 a. THE "ANALYSIS" OF THE CUMULATIVE EFFECTS OF 2 ADDING PINENUT TO EXISTING URANIUM ACTIVITIES CONSISTS OF THREE 3 SENTENCES ON HAULING IMPACTS.

5 The Appellant claims BLM used the entire Arizona
6 Strip instead of a much smaller area (one-tenth the entire Strip)
7 for comparing the cumulative effects of approving Pinenut and uses 8 Exhibits L and M as source materials to prove the point. The 9 Appellant also disputes the statement that cumulative impacts from 10 Pinenut are greater than just that of using common haul roads.

11 The Appellant also states BLM approached cumulative
12 impacts in a "nonsensical way." The Appellant has misinterpreted 13 the intent of the entire section by not understanding that the 14 section used previously identified cumulative impacts and other 15 reasonably foreseeable actions. Furthermore, this section describes 16 cumulative impacts with Pinenut as it related to surface disturb-17 ance, powerlines, and roads. An accurate summary of exact acreage, 18 numbers of powerline, and miles of access is provided. BLM goes 19 further to describe what form of cumulative impact will result from 20 Pinenut. The conclusions are based on the best scientific data 21 available.

22 BLM also gives examples of why most of the "cumula-23 tive" impacts will not correlate with other mines; i.e., the impacts 24 from the mine yard are only local and cannot be detected very far 25 away from the mine yard (generally only a few 100 meters).

26 //

1 The Appellant complains that BLM has compared impacts
2 to the entire Strip region. Note, that the cumulative impacts
3 sections was not present in the draft EA. BLM added cumulative 4 impacts as a direct result of public comments on the draft EA. The 5 Appellant then only wants to use EFN's area of activity. No other 6 companies have claims in EFN's "area of probable activity." BLM
7 mineral program crosses the entire strip area on vacant open public
8 lands. The Appellant attempts to demonstrate that the only probable 9 mineral activity is near the Kanab Creek Canyon near the Grand 10 Canyon National Park. This does not consider the other active 11 mineral companies and EFN's more scattered claims. Even assuming 12 the one-tenth size of the Arizona Strip as the Appellant suggest, 13 surface disturbance impact in the highest mineral potential area 14 would be less than 3 hundredths of one percent. Not a significant 15 impact.

16 The Appellant alleges BLM's analysis of surface 17 disturbance is seriously misleading. The Appellant names a list of 18 all operations submitted since 1980. Of the 362 so called plans or 19 actions stated in the Appellant's "Statement of Reason," BLM only 20 comes up with 288. Regardless of the number of submissions received 21 the meaning of the data is much different than presented by the 22 Appellant. The data boils down to 147 Plans, 91 Notices, and 51
23 Amendments. Of the 147 Plans, 52 have never been drilled and 6 24 additional Plans were on old mine sites. Of the 91 Notices, 2 were 25 not drilled, 4 have been bought by larger mining companies who have 26 filed their own Notices. The Amendments consisted of 51 re-entries

1 on Plans. Most mineral companies file a little differently. Some 2 file Plans cover claims, some cover sites and some cover a series of 3 claims or sites. Simply looking at a list of mineral submission on 4 the Arizona Strip will provide nothing but just that, a list of 5 proposals. The Appellant also fails to identify which and how many 6 activities are non discretionary. The fact is Exhibit M is totally 7 useless to determine what disturbances have occurred on this dis-
8 trict. Exhibit L is a misrepresentation of fact. Appellant shows 9 plans and notices which cover whole sections. Their points are 10 misleading and totally fictitious.

11 The Appellant also wrongfully makes no indication of 12 the vast acreages throughout the Arizona Strip which are closed to 13 mineral entry, i.e., Kaibab National Forest, Grand Canyon National 14 Game Preserve, Grand Canyon National Park, Glen Canyon Recreation
15 Area, Vermillion Cliff Natural Area, parts of Lake Mead Recreation
16 Area, Paria Canyon-Vermillion Cliffs Wilderness Area, Kanab Creek
17 Wilderness Area, Saddle Mountain Wilderness Area, Cottonwood Point
18 Wilderness Area, Mt. Trumbull Wilderness Area, Mt. Logan Wilderness
19 Area, several administrative withdrawals, Indian reservations, etc.

20 The Appellant states that BLM arbitrarily or pur-
21 posefully designed the EA to discount the true impacts of uranium 22 activities, however the Appellant does not ever mention what the 23 true impacts are. The Appellant themselves use the MFP out of 24 context. It is well known that BLM's planning system cannot inval-25 idate Federal Law (i.e., 1872 Mining Law and its Amendments) which 26 mandates that all vacant federal lands should remain open to mineral

1 entries. Furthermore, the Appellant fails to even mention that the 2 Vermillion MFP recommends (unit wide) that the area is to remain 3 open to mineral appropriation, subject to existing rights. BLM and 4 others have also made great effort to prevent deterioration of its 5 most sensitive areas as is evident by the large numbers of 6 Congressional, Presidential and Administrative withdrawals of vast 7 acreage on the Arizona Strip. Furthermore, their statement is 8 contrary to Appellants Exhibit C, which states that the Bureau
9 planning system is based on the concept of multiple use - a concept 10 which recognizes more than one potential user for an area.

11 The Appellant states that the Pinenut makes an abrupt 12 conclusion, is not supportable and is incomplete. See contract 13 studies of all the data BLM used in addition to the second set of 14 comments that were submitted by the consultants which directly 15 responded to the comments received regarding cumulative impacts.
16 The Appellant provides absolutely no evidence contrary to BLM's 17 analysis, just opinion. Furthermore, the data used by BLM in its 18 analysis was obtained via contract studies, from experts in the 19 field, using the best technologies, methods and equipment which is 20 EPA approved. These analysis show that the addition of Pinenut will 21 have no significant adverse impacts to the environment, including 22 the Grand Canyon National Park.

1 b. THE "ANALYSIS" OF THE CUMULATIVE EFFECTS OF 2 PINENUT AND REASONABLY FORESEEABLE URANIUM ACTIONS IRRATIONALLY
3 CONSIDERS ONLY ONE FUTURE MINE IN COMPLETE DISREGARD OF EFN'S 4 STATEMENTS AND THE BLM'S OWN PREDICTIONS ON FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

6 Appellant has totally ignored the facts presented in 7 the EA on pages 85-86. BLM's analysis of reasonable and foreseeable 8 operations is much broader than Appellant suggests. EA at page 85 9 specifically states: 1) the lowest probabilities for additional 10 mining occurs north, east and south of Pinenut, due to wilderness, 11 Hacks Canyon and results obtained from past exploration activities.
12 (This is the area the Appellant considers most "sensitive"), 2) 13 Mining cannot occur directly south of Pinenut, because of the Grand 14 Canyon Game Preserve. 3) Mining is also not expected closer than 15 3.0 miles west of Pinenut, due to terrain and lack of exploration 16 success. 4) Based on these facts one or more additional mines could 17 only effect cumulative impacts by adding acres to the total surface
18 disturbance and/or by using parts or all of the existing, improved
19 transportation system. Furthermore, BLM's analysis, not only states 20 the most likely areas for potential mining, but tries to identify 21 what the anticipated correlative effects could be.

22 The best known data available, including the contract
23 studies, as well as BLM's own data, still proves that correlative 24 effects of additional mines are not significant, unless mines are

1 located within very close proximity (EA at 85 and Canyon EIS). Also 2 see analysis of comments provided by contractors in response to 3 cumulative impacts.

4 It must be pointed out that for every 100 holes 5 drilled, there is less than 2 percent probability that a significant 6 mineralized deposit will be hit. Granted the companies have goals, 7 however, it is highly unlikely that EFN will find a new mine every 8 year for the next 10 plus years. Dagget's article is highly errone-
9 ous and uses emotions rather than facts. The Park Service comment 10 about 30-40 additional deposits is a misunderstanding. EFN may have 11 30 to 40 targets or even breccia pipes but as to whether they con-12 tain uranium of marketable quality is just speculation. The Park 13 Service comments on the draft EA have been answered. (See Exhibit 14 A). This response has satisfied their concerns about Pinenut.

15 The Appellant also uses a very old Arizona Game and 16 Fish letter to a previous District Manager. The employee was a 17 staff Wildlife Manager. The current Arizona Game and Fish comments
18 on Pinenut supports the Pinenut EA, the analysis, and the mitigation 19 required.

20 The Appellant appears to try to make the case of 21 requiring BLM to do an EIS based on Forest Service actions on the 22 Canyon Mine. Whereas the Appellant and his expert provide only a 23 small part of the picture as to why Forest Service decided to do an 24 EIS. (Draft EIS at 4.1). Specifically, Forest Service states that 25 the potential for cumulative impacts were not identified as a major 26 issue of concern.

1 BLM has reviewed the Canyon EIS and has discussed
2 many issues with the USFS. Based on these discussions and the 3 conclusions of the final Canyon EIS the transportation systems are 4 the only cumulative impacts that occur because of the impacts from 5 the mine yards are too site specific and do not tend to lead to 6 adverse cumulative impacts. There are many beneficial social and 7 economic impacts associated with Canyon EIS.

8 The Appellant has also presented an internal, 5 year 9 old, BLM staff document that discussed the concerns of one of its 10 employees over the growing minerals program on the Arizona Strip.
11 Although this staff paper only provides one persons opinion and one 12 side of the story, it does help to prove that BLM and its employees 13 continue to question and challenge the Bureau's procedures and 14 policies to assure that the best possible decisions are made.

15 The Appellant also states that BLM has ignored its 16 own predictions as well as reaching contrary conclusions to its own
17 MFP. First of all the Appellant fails to recognize that the MFP
18 recommends the entire area remain open to mineral appropriation.
19 Second, the area that the Appellant refers to is known as Area 5 20 (Kanab Creek), of which a vast amount of acreage is closed to 21 mineral appropriation due to the existence of the Grand Canyon Game 22 Preserve, Wilderness Areas and Park Service Lands. The entire 23 Canyon of Kanab Creek is closed to mineral entry from Snake Gulch to 24 the Colorado River.

25 The Appellant's Exhibit C only represents small parts 26 of the MFP. Specifically, the very next page states that the entire

1 unit will remain open to mineral leasing, location and sale, except 2 where restricted by withdrawals, travel influence zones. The 3 Appellant claims BLM made faulty predictions by only choosing to 4 evaluate one additional mine to Pinenut. BLM was simply showing 5 that the addition of another mine would not cause any cumulative 6 impacts except for total surface disturbance and potential for the 7 transportation system. This same statement holds true if BLM 8 decided to consider 10 additional mines. However, with more than 9 one foreseeable mine it is impossible to evaluate the potential 10 impact of more than one future mine because their locations are 11 unknown.

12 The 1986 MFP summary does state that there is poten-13 tial for 4 or 5 additional mines over the next 10 years based on the 14 current and predicted levels of mining explorations. These poten-15 tial impacts can only be reasonably evaluated once they are proposed 16 and there is a known location.

17 18 3. THE EA DOES NOT ADEQUATELY ADDRESS THE CONCERNS OF 19 THE PARK SERVICE ABOUT CUMULATIVE IMPACTS OF PINENUT AND LEAVES 20 SEVERAL RELEVANT AREAS UNADDRESSED.

21
22 The Appellant alleges that BLM failed to address Park
23 Service concerns. While it is true that Park Service had concerns
24 over the Pinenut draft EA, the final EA as well as a separate letter
25 from BLM to Dick Marks answered all the concerns the Park Service
26 brought up. (Exhibit A). The Appellant's allegations and concerns

1 are ex post facto. The Grand Canyon National Park Service was 2 satisfied with the Bureau's response to their comment on the draft 3 EA. Through both telephone conversation and personnel meetings the 4 Park Service now has a better understanding of Pinenut and BLM's
5 mineral program. Based on these discussions the Park Service 6 understand BLM's position on not preparing an EIS. BLM used the 7 Park Service comments on the draft to improve and expand many of the 8 original analysis and have added several additional mitigating 9 measures to the final EA.

10 The Appellant and the Park Service have both made the 11 statement that opening previously remote, relatively pristine back-
12 country has caused increased archaeological vandalism and off-road
13 vehicle use. During BLM's archaeological inventory of the area 14 surrounding Pinenut, BLM found an area on the Park that had been 15 vandalized. BLM notified the Park and offered them assistance.
16 Through further investigation, the Park found another site that had 17 been vandalized. Up until BLM notified the Park of the problem, the 18 Park was unaware of any problems in the area because they rarely, if 19 ever, patrol this area. It is also very important to note that as 20 of that time there had been no road upgrading and no increased 21 accessibility to any of this area. Based on the Parks own recommen-
22 dations they started to patrol the area and for the first time 23 started obtaining visitor use information in the area. To blame the 24 vandalism on mineral development or anything at all related to 25 mineral activity is only pure speculation supported by no data or 26 //

1 facts. Cultural vandalism has been, is, and is expected to continue
2 to be a challenge for both BLM and the Park Service on all federally 3 managed lands.

4 Appellant also alleges that BLM did not adequately assess 5 cumulative impacts on air and water quality. (See EA pages 68-84
6 and 115-117 studies contracted. See also comments provided by 7 contractors regarding the potential for cumulative impacts).
8 Furthermore, Appellant's own Exhibit D, Park Service letter to Jane 9 Whalen contradicts their statement. Park Service states that the 10 standards set by EPA are adequate safeguards. In addition, Park 11 Service acknowledges that the companies have met and in most cases, 12 far exceeded EPA requirements. In addition they make brief mention 13 of the extensive monitoring program. EFN regularly monitors 7 sta-14 tions along the Kanab Creek drainage, above and below each mine.
15 Monitoring occurs quarterly and involves the sampling of over 60 16 water quality parameters. (One of the stations is on Park Service 17 land). In addition there has never been any data to suggest that 18 the existing operating mines near the Kanab Creek drainage have ever 19 had any impact, cumulative or otherwise on either Kanab Creek or the 20 Colorado River. (See EA pages 26 and 58).

21 As for the combined radiological effects of several mines, 22 there is absolutely no area wide impact. (See EA pages 29-30 and 23 59-62. See also contractor's answers to comments, regarding the 24 potential of cumulative radiological impacts. See DR page 6 (Nos.
25 16 and 17), 8 and 10).

26 //

1 The Appellant argues that there is a possibility of con-
2 tamination of the drainage due to a storm event that could effect
3 all mines. Appellant has ignored factual data presented in the EA
4 pages 18 and 21. The possibility of such a severe event that could 5 effect the entire area is virtually non-existent. Specifically the 6 EA states on page 21, that "storm intensity can be severe due to 7 localized summer showers", and further on, "intermittent flows from 8 localized and sporadic showers." Note also, even though all of 9 EFN's mines have current discharge permits, they have never dis-10 charged, nor ever intend to do so. All mines are set up for full 11 containment.

12 The Appellant argues that the EA ignores changes in the 13 character of the lands caused by cumulative effects. The EA on 14 pages 53-57 describes the impacts to remoteness. Appellant sites 15 Exhibit L, which as stated is a misleading and grossly overstated
16 representation of what occurs. Appellant again uses Park Service 17 concerns based on the DRAFT EA. Park Service concerns have been 18 fully mitigated within the final EA.

19
20 4. CONCLUSION

21
22 As can be clearly seen, BLM has completed thorough Envi-23 ronmental Analysis of Pinenut. The Bureau has done a great deal 24 more than just assure that unnecessary or undue degradation will not 25 occur and has provided much more than just reasonable reclamation 26 measures. However, very much to Bureau credit, they have provided

1 well thought out, highly professional responses to public and 2 Appellant comments. The Bureau has taken a hard look at Pinenut and 3 has provided meaningful and clear statements on the environmental 4 impacts. The manner in which BLM responded to the Park's comments, 5 especially after they refused to attend an on site scoping meeting, 6 is admirable and professional.

7 NEPA requires both EA and EIS to be brief, clear, accurate
8 portrayal of the anticipated environmental impacts. BLM was not 9 required to address cumulative impacts but they chose to do so based 10 on public comments. The analysis provided a comprehensive and 11 convincing look at the impacts which clearly lead to a finding of no 12 significant impacts.

13
14 THE BLM MUST PREPARE A COMPREHENSIVE EIS URANIUM DEVELOPMENT 15

16 It is evident that the Appellant is attempting to obtain 17 through this appeal what they have not been able to obtain through 18 ordinary administrative channels, namely, that the BLM should 19 conduct a district-wide or "regional" EIS on uranium mining. That 20 issue is beyond the scope of the decision under review in this case.

21 Under NEPA regulations it is clear that the BLM is required to 22 prepare either an EA or an EIS prior to approving any project.
23 However, under either approach the scope of inquiry is limited to 24 the environmental impacts in the area of activity. There is no
25 requirement for the BLM to consider the preparation of a district-
26 wide or regional EIS as a result of a plan of operations submitted

1 by a mining company. Such a consideration was not undertaken in 2 this case and was not a part of the decision issued by the BLM.
3 Consequently, the issue concerning district-wide or regional EIS is 4 simply beyond the scope of this appeal and should not be given any 5 consideration by the Board.

6 As to the need to prepare an EIS on this particular project,
7 the Appellant complains that the BLM did not consider enough factors
8 in the EA. However, if the main task of the BLM is kept in mind it
9 becomes clear that the BLM considered all factors which were neces-10 sary for a reasoned decision as to whether an EIS was required. The 11 express purpose of the mineral regulations as well as the intent of 12 Congress, is to allow mining activities to continue if that can be 13 done in a manner which will not cause unnecessary or undue degrada-
14 tion. Here, the BLM concluded that as a result of the mitigation 15 measures imposed, no unnecessary or undue degradation is antici-16 pated. Given that conclusion, and as a result of detailed study, 17 the BLM decided that an EA was sufficient under the circumstances of 18 this case.

19 The Appellant has not shown that the BLM "relied on a demon-20 strable error of fact," in concluding that an EIS was not necessary.
21 Rather, they assert that more factors should have been considered in 22 more depth. In other words, it is not difficult to cast about and 23 find some "factor" that may not have been considered by the BLM, or 24 which was not considered in a depth sufficient to please the Appel-25 lant. However, the BLM is faced with the task of reviewing the 26 impacts of this proposed project in as detailed a form as possible

1 within a time frame that will allow activities to proceed if allow-2 able by law and regulations. Having made that analysis, the BLM now 3 stands on the record. The EA is sufficiently detailed as to allow 4 the District Manager to make an informed and reasoned decision under 5 the circumstances. Where an administrative decision is made that a 6 proposed action is not a major federal action nor that it will 7 significantly affect the quality of the human environment, so that 8 no EIS need be filed, that decision will be affirmed on review by 9 the IBLA if it appears to have been made by an authorized officer, 10 in good faith, based upon a proper and sufficient environmental 11 analysis compiled in accordance with established procedures, and is 12 the reasonable result of the study of such record. Sierra Club, 13 et al., 57 IBLA 79 (Aug. 21, 1981); Citizens Committee to Save Our 14 Public Lands, 25 IBLA 48 (Feb. 16, 1977).

15 Review of the record clearly indicates that BLM has made an 16 extensive examination of the impacts. The finding by the District
17 Manager that an EIS is unnecessary is consistent with this examina-18 tion. In Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Comm. v. U.S.
19 Postal Service, 487 F.2d 1029 (D.C. Cir. 1973), the Court ruled that 20 an agency preparing an EA containing a negative finding had to:
21 1) take a "hard look" at the problem, as opposed to setting forth 22 bald conclusions; 2) identify the relevant areas of environmental 23 concern; and 3) make a convincing case that environmental impact is 24 insignificant. Accord Fund for Animals v. Frizzell, 402 F. Supp. 35
25 (D.C. Cir. 1975), aff'd, 530 F.2d 982 (D.C. Cir. 1976). BLM's
26 analysis of the proposed action satisfies these criteria.

1 1. THE NEED FOR A COMPREHENSIVE EIS IS CLEAR AND HAS 2 BEEN STRESSED BY THE GRAND CANYON NATIONAL PARK.

4 The Appellant though misrepresenting most all of the facts
5 in this section wants BLM to complete an EIS as an effective means 6 of evaluating total impacts.

7 The Appellant maintains that the BLM is obligated to 8 consider cumulative environmental impacts not only just in the 9 immediate area but also in the entire Arizona Strip District. The 10 Appellant further argues that this obligation may be met only by the 11 preparation of a "programmatic" EIS for the entire region. The 12 BLM's Arizona Strip District is an area comprised of approximately 13 3.5 million acres. The nature and extent of mining activities
14 within the Arizona Strip are so insignificant, in view of the size 15 of the area, that the cumulative impacts of such activities are 16 negligible.

17 The Appellant states that there has been a steady "flood" 18 of mineral activities in the Kanab Creek area. Appellant also 19 alleges that the activities have opened remote, undisturbed areas 20 with construction, exploration, mining and hauling. That is simply 21 not the case and Appellant has presented no data as to what activi-22 ties have taken place in the area immediately north of the canyon.
23 Furthermore, the Appellant's correlation of activities in the area
24 is inaccurate. BLM has been advised that EFN has no more activities
25 planned east or south of the Pinenut due to land status designations 26 and actual information based on past exploration activities.

1 Furthermore, the remote undisturbed areas the appellant
2 refers to have been accessible (even by sedan traffic) via existing 3 roads, prior to any of the present mineral activities. The present 4 project as defined in the plan of operations will not change that 5 condition.

7 2. THE COURTS HAVE REQUIRED COMPREHENSIVE EIS'S IN 8 SIMILAR CIRCUMSTANCES.

10 The Appellant uses several irrelevant cases to support 11 their position that a comprehensive EIS is required. In particular 12 Conner v. Burford. Oil and gas is a leasable mineral. Classifying 13 areas as available for oil and gas leases is a Federal action and is 14 discretionary. That is not the case for locatable minerals (i.e.
15 uranium). Public lands are open to locatable mineral development 16 and therefore the filing of a Plan-of-Operation is not a federal 17 action nor is it discretionary. It is a requirement under 43 CFR 18 3809.

19 Kleppe v. Sierra Club, 427 U.S. 390 (1976) is regarded as 20 the seminal case on this issue. In Kleppe, the Supreme Court held 21 that the Department of the Interior and other federal agencies
22 responsible for issuing coal leases and for approving mining plans
23 of operation were not required to prepare a regional EIS. The Court 24 found that a regional EIS was not required because, as in the 25 present case, there was no evidence in the record of a federal plan 26 or the development of the entire region. The Court concluded at 1 p. 401 that in such a situation not only was an EIS statutorily

2 unnecessary, but also that an EIS could not be prepared for 3 practical reasons:

4 in the absence of a proposal for a regional 5 plan of development, there is nothing that 6 could be the subject of the analysis envi-
7 sioned by the statute for an impact statement 8 . . . Absent an overall plan for regional 9 development, it is impossible to predict the level of coal-related activity that will occur in the region . . . and thus impossible to analyze the environmental consequences and the resource commitments involved in, and the alternatives to, such activity.

10 See also Environmental Defense Fund, Inc. v. Armstrong, 11 356 F. Supp. 131 (N.D. Cal. 1973) ("So long as each major federal 12 action is undertaken individually and not as an indivisible, inte-
13 gral part of an integrated state-wide system, then the requirements
14 of NEPA are determined on an individual major federal action 15 basis"); and Nucleus of Chicago Homeowners Assn v. Lynn, 524 F.2d 16 225, 230 (7th Cir. 1975).

17 Further, at p. 412, the Court agency's decision not to 18 prepare a regional EIS must be upheld unless that decision is 19 arbitrary:

20 to prevail (it must be shown that the agency)
21 acted arbitrarily in refusing to prepare a compre-22 hensive statement on the entire region . . . The 23 determination of the region, if any, with respect
24 to which a comprehensive statement is necessary
25 requires the weighing of a number of relevant 26 factors, including the extent of the interrelationship among proposed actions and particularly considerations of feasibility. Resolving these issues requires a high level of technical expertise and is properly left to the informed discretion of the responsible federal agencies . . .

1 Absent, a showing of arbitrary action, we must 2 assume that the agencies have exercised this discretion appropriately.

3 In summation, the Courts have held that, absent a federal 4 plan for regional development or other concurrently pending and 5 "intimately related" proposals, preparation of a regional EIS is 6 unnecessary. The following determinations are vested in the 7 discretion of the authorized officer and must be upheld unless 8 found to be arbitrary: (1) whether a regional EIS must be pre-9 pared; (2) the scope of the appropriate geographical unit for anal-10 ysis; and (3) the degree to which the action at issue is related to 11 other concurrently pending proposals in the region. The courts 12 also have held that failure to conduct a required regional EIS will 13 not invalidate approval of a specific project.

14 In the present case, the authorized officer has deter-15 mined that no EIS is required. It is illogical to argue that a 16 project, which will not significantly affect even its immediate 17 environment, necessitates the preparation of an EIS for an area the 18 size of the Arizona Strip. Furthermore, there is no federal plan 19 for the development of the Arizona Strip; future development, will 20 be initiated by mining claimants. It is difficult to imagine how a 21 programmatic EIS could be prepared at this time since the proposed 22 action about which the EIS would be written is unknown and unknow-
23 able. Appellants have not identified other currently pending 24 proposals for regional development, nor have they described the 25 manner in which those proposed projects are "intimately related" to 26 //

1 EFN's. In these circumstances, the decision of the authorized 2 officer not to prepare a regional EIS cannot be said to be 3 arbitrary.

5 3. CEQ REGULATIONS AND NEPA REQUIRE PREPARATION OF A 6 COMPREHENSIVE EIS.

8 The Appellant contends that NEPA requires an EIS on a 9 major federal action significantly affecting the quality of the 10 human environmental. Based on BLM's analysis it is apparent that 11 Pinenut will not have significant affect on the quality of the 12 human environment nor is it a major federal action. The Pinenut 13 environmental analysis did evaluate reasonable foreseeable impacts.

14 The Appellant continuously fails to recognize that under 15 the CEQ regulations that a single plan of operations could not 16 possibly be reviewed in the context of 40 CFR 1508, 25, 1502.4, 17 "Similar actions are those which when reviewed with other reason-18 ably foreseeable proposed agency actions. Each mineral action on 19 the area of the Arizona Strip is immediately rehabilitated to 20 standards required by Law. Furthermore, as stated previously, 21 Exhibit M is useless to determine if a plan has had any activity.
22 It is also impossible to consider that casual use, a notice of 23 intent and a plan of operations could be considered SIMILAR 24 ACTIONS. 43 CFR 3809 provides precise definitions of these actions
25 and they are not similar. The decision made by the District

26 //

1 Manager to approve Pinerut Plan-of-Operation carries with it no 2 additional commitments to approve any other mineral action or even 3 modification to the Plan-of-Operations itself.

4 BLM Manual .2 C, states "when an operator has not 5 developed mitigating measures to prevent undue and unnecessary 6 degradation or provide for reasonable reclamation in the proposed 7 plan, the authorized officer must use the EA to develop reasonable 8 reclamation or mitigating measures as appropriate. "Mitigating 9 measures to prevent unnecessary or undue degradation will be devel-
10 oped in the EA. The plan will be modified by adding these mitigat-11 ing measures. If the modifications completely compensate for any 12 adverse environmental impacts stemming from the original proposal, 13 the statutory threshold of significant environmental effects will 14 not be crossed, and an EIS will not be required. Cabinet Mountains
15 Wilderness/Scotchman's Peak Grizzley Bear, et al, v. R. Max
16 Peterson, et al, 510 F. Supp. 1186 (D.D.C. 1981, affirmed, 685 17 F.3d., 678 (D.C.C. 1982). No matter what level of environmental 18 document is required by the plan, the plan must be approved if it 19 will not cause unnecessary or undue degradation, or if it contains 20 appropriate mitigating measures that will prevent unnecessary or 21 undue degradation. That was the determination in the present case.

22 The Appellants in Cabinet Mountain tried to argue that 23 the Forest Supervisor's decision that an EIS was unnecessary and 24 improper because his assessment of environmental impacts considered 25 the effects of mitigation. The Court at p. 682 made short work of 26 that argument. Other courts have . . . permitted the effect of

1 mitigating measures to be considered in determining whether prepa-
2 ration of an EIS is necessary . . . Logic also supports this 3 result. NEPA's EIS requirement is governed by the rule of reason
4 . . . and an EIS must be prepared only when significant environ-5 mental impacts will occur as a result of the proposed action. If, 6 however, the proposal is modified prior to implementation by adding 7 specific mitigation measures which . . . compensate for any pos-
8 sible adverse environmental impacts stemming from the original 9 proposal, the statutory threshold of significant environmental 10 effects is not crossed and an EIS is not required. To require an 11 EIS in such circumstances would trivialize NEPA and would "diminish 12 its utility in providing useful environmental analysis for major 13 federal actions that truly effect the environment."

14 The Courts determined that since the mitigation measures
15 were properly taken into consideration by the agency, it had no
16 difficulty in concluding that the decision that an EIS was unneces-
17 sary work nor arbitrary or capricious. Surely that is the case
18 here what with the BLM implementing numerous mitigation 19 requirements.

20 685 F.2d at 682, 683. Thus, it has been established 21 conclusively that mitigation may be considered in determining 22 whether an EIS is required.

1 4. CONCLUSION

3 The Appellant has used fancy adjectives to describe con-4 cerns and state how inadequate the analysis of Pinenut EA was; but 5 has not presented any data, or support for their position. The 6 Appellant has not criticized the relevant parts of the EA, i.e., 7 mitigating measures, alternatives or reclamation. Therefore one 8 must assume that the Appellant has not problem with them. The 9 intent of NEPA is not to present encyclopedic EIS or generate 10 paperwork, even excellent paperwork, but to foster excellent 11 actions. Since the Appellant has totally failed to present any 12 concerns about the Plan-of-Operations causing unnecessary or undue 13 degradation, mitigating measures being insufficient or reclamation 14 being inadequate; the BLM feels that its support decision to 15 approve the Pinenut modification based on the EA should be 16 affirmed.

18 III. To Prevent Undue and Unnecessary Degradation, BLM Must 19 Consider the Potential Profitability of the Project.

20 21 Appellant is most certainly "grasping at straws" or making a last 22 ditch effort to stop the Pinenut Project in contending that in 23 order "to prevent undue and unnecessary degradation". The BLM must 24 consider the potential profitability of the Pinenut Project. To my 25 knowledge that contention has never been presented before and it is 26 no wonder why since it is totally unsupportable by the law. Simply

1 stated, SWC is contending that any mining activity, absent a valid 2 discovery, is in itself unnecessary degradation. SWC has simply 3 misinterpreted and misapplied the standard. The prevention of 4 "unnecessary and undue degradation of the public lands is a statu-5 tory mandate to the Secretary (43 USC 1732 (b)) and this mandate is 6 implemented by the regulations contained in 43 CFR Subpart 3809.
7 The standard is not intended to be used in determining the validity 8 of a mining claim, but rather it is to be used in evaluating the 9 reasonableness of the extent of an impact that a particular mining 10 activity may have upon Federal lands. 43 CFR 3809.0-1 states that 11 the purpose of the subpart is to establish procedures to prevent 12 unnecessary or undue degradation of Federal lands which may result 13 from operations authorized by the mining laws. An even more defin-14 itive to the question is the definition of "operations" set forth 15 at 43 CFR 3809.0-5(f):

16 "Operations" means all functions, work, 17 facilities, and activities in connection with 18 prospecting, discovery and assessment work, 19 development, extraction, and processing of 20 mineral deposits locatable under the mining laws and all other uses reasonably incident thereto, whether on a mining claim or not, xxxx.

21 It is clear that the search for, development, or extrac-22 tion of a valuable mineral deposit is authorized under 43 CFR 3809 23 regardless of whether the pursuit is on or off a mining claim, or 24 whether a valuable mineral deposit has yet been discovered, if it 25 is on open public lands, and will not cause unnecessary or undue 26 degradation. 43 CFR 3809.0-2. In recognition of this fact, it is

1 not the policy of the Bureau of Land Management to determine 2 profitability or validity of mining claims before approving plans
3 of operations. BLM Manual 3809.16E.

Dick Marks, Superintendent
Grand Canyon National Park
P.O. Box 129
Grand Canyon, Arizona 86023

Dear Mr. ^{Dick} Marks:

I appreciate receiving your comments on the draft Environmental Analysis (EA) for the Pinenut mining plan. Many of your comments caused us to document more of our analysis in the final EA. Our analysis found that there were no significant adverse environmental impacts that would require an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), and therefore, the plan was approved on April 25, 1986.

I am, however, disappointed that your staff did not accept our invitation to meet on the project site to discuss your specific concerns. This would have been most helpful and would have saved considerable time. As a result, misunderstandings are evident as pointed out in your comments.

Since coordination between our two agencies is vital in making proper decisions when adjoining resources may be affected, we believe that initial coordinations to discuss the proposal and review viable alternatives is necessary. Comments to our draft EA are normally addressed in the final EA. However, I felt it was necessary to respond to your concerns to clarify any misunderstandings.

PARK SERVICE CONCERNS:

1. "We have no record of reviewing the original EA"

Response:

Energy Fuels Nuclear, Inc., (EFNI) generally submits a plan of operation for each of their drill site locations. Drilling operations that disturb less than five acres only require the filing of a "Notice" under Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 3809. Upon receipt of a notice we are required to review their proposal within 15 days. Since there is no Federal action, this review does not require an EA. In the case of the original proposed operations EFNI chose to submit a plan of operations, even though less than five acres would be disturbed, which required BLM to analyze (within a 30 day time period) the proposal in the context of the requirement to prevent unnecessary or undue degradation and provide for reasonable reclamation.

EXHIBIT "A"

The original plan of ~~operations~~ ^{exploration} for site No. 156 was ~~1+~~ exploration only (less than five acres were to be disturbed) and was submitted in July of 1984 by EFNI. We prepared an EA within the regulated timeframes which clearly showed that the exploration activities would have no foreseeable effect on Grand Canyon. As a result, you were not asked to comment. We did, however, circulate the EA to several interest groups including the Arizona Wildlife Federation and the Southern Utah Resource council.

When EFNI found a commercially valuable uranium deposit at site No. 156, they submitted a major modification to the approved existing plan on January 10, 1986, and called it the Pinenut mine. This required BLM to assess the new proposal and we asked for your involvement and comments as to the affect on Park resources.

2. "EFNI has identified possibly 30 to 40 additional ore deposits on the Strip"

Response:

EFNI probably has 30 to 40 additional targets to be drilled through their exploration program to determine if ore deposits are present. Currently they have not located any additional known ore deposits suitable for development.

3. "Approximately 30 to 40 miles of backcountry road have been upgraded"

Response:

To date, EFNI has upgraded 21 miles of existing access and constructed only three miles of new road.

4. "30 or more miles of powerline have been built to the present mine sites"

Response:

Thirty miles of powerline have been constructed to serve the existing mines without any new associated roads.

5. "Roads and powerlines do not seem to follow any definite plan but wander from point to point depending on the location of the mine."

Response:

The uranium ore deposits are not generally found in a uniform location that would allow development of an overall road system. When a deposit has been found and development is proposed, the action is evaluated and analyzed through an EA to determine environmental impacts. Past experience has shown that use of existing roads have the least impact. The wandering nature of the roads are a result of trails, wagon roads, and other vehicle tracks made during the early use of the Strip. They were made to facilitate the multiple uses of the public land. To deviate significantly from these already established routes would not meet the undue and unnecessary degradation standards in the regulations.

6. "In the Marble Canyon area, EFNI proposed to drill exploratory holes within 200 feet of the park boundary."

Response:

By law and regulations, EFNI could have drilled under a "Notice" with no environmental constraints from either agency. EFNI has proven to be an environmentally responsible mining company and once made aware of your concerns they discontinued operations at the site.

7. "The preferred haul road for the Pinenut Mine will come within 1 1/2 miles of the park boundary." "would they (the haul road & alternatives) be visible from the park?"

Response:

The preferred haul road does come within 1 1/2 mile of the park boundary, but a visit to the mine site and access road would show that they are not in direct view of the Park. Upgrading the existing road will not increase visibility due to screening by vegetation and topography.

8. "increased impacts on park resources are already being noticed in the Tuweep District as a result of increased accessibility from the Pinenut haul road."

Response:

The proposed haul road is an existing road and has not been upgraded. This road has been used by the public for many years. Even though they are rough they are accessible by sedan. The increased activity has brought more attention to the area by both our staffs which could account for observed increased activities. We are currently experiencing increased vandalism through out the entire Strip area. This includes areas where uranium exploration has not taken place. As a result, we do not believe that increased cultural vandalism on Park resources is due to EFNI's use of existing roads in the area.

9. "we recommend that a comprehensive management plan and Environmental Impact Statement be developed addressing the cumulative impacts..."

Response:

NEPA requires preparation of an EIS for "major Federal actions significantly affecting the quality of the human environment." BLM is obligated under NEPA to develop a reviewable record reflecting consideration of all relevant factors. BLM has prepared an EA containing an objective analysis and a Decision Record which concludes that the Pinenut proposal: (1) will not cause any undue and unnecessary degradation to public lands, (2) is in full conformance with 43 CFR 3809 and NEPA regulations, (3) there will be no significant adverse environmental impacts, and (4) and an EIS is not necessary.

- In the case of cumulative impacts, "BLM is not required to assess the significance of an impact on a wide scale area when it prepares an analysis of a specific project" (IBLA 83-355). In addition, IBLA held that "failure to conduct a regional EIS will not invalidate the approval of a specific project determined to have no significant impacts on the human environment." BLM did add a cumulative impacts section to the final EA for past exploration and reasonably foreseeable actions. Evaluating the cumulative impacts of the existing mines as they relate to know future development in our judgement is the best means of addressing this issue. Since location and number of future mines would be highly speculative, preparing a cumulative EIS prior to known information would not be an efficient use of public funds. BLM does not feel that an EIS on cumulative impacts based on speculative information would add to sound decision making.

10. "we need to be informed at the earliest possible time of the proposed action and be provided with information necessary for evaluation."

Response:

The Park was called about the Pinenut proposal to set up a field meeting even before BLM received the plan of operations. EFNI sent the Park the Pinenut proposal on January 11, 1986, (one day after BLM received the proposal) with all the ancillary studies. After receiving the proposal, the Park was called to attend a field meeting with other interested agencies (USFS, AGFD, etc.). We specifically requested the Park's attendance so your concerns and issues could be addressed in the draft EA and to eliminate the potential for misunderstandings. We mailed a draft EA on February 7, 1986 and called to confirm receipt.

11. Air Quality

Response:

Our records show the Park receiving EFNI's air quality report the week of January 13, 1986 along with the plan of operations. This provided an opportunity to receive early comments from your Washington Office. Under the worst possible scenario (which is extremely remote) the Park could be affected. This would be mitigated by adding 9 to 16 inches of gravel on the road to reduce potential dust problems. In conclusion, there should be no adverse impact to the Park from dust off the haul road.

12. Water

Response:

- Ground water impact analysis was strengthened in the final EA. BLM has required the 100 year 24 hour storm capacity pond to be built during Phase I. EFNI has volunteered to increase the pond size sufficient to handle the 500 year 24 hour event. BLM has also required EFNI to submit their Best Management Practices and Procedures for approval in case of any unforeseen accident.

13. Soils

Response:

Impacts to soils have been stated in the final EA. Waste rock by definition is non-ore bearing and will be used as a base material for the haul road upgrade. No spoil piles will exist. Non-economic ore bearing material will be stockpiled and deposited in the mine shaft during reclamation.

14. Vegetation

Response:

Most of the powerline will be located along an existing jeep trail. There will be no road blading. A single pass with a rubber tire vehicle has not destroyed vegetation as shown on other existing powerlines. Pad blading for the total length of the powerline will be less than one acre.

15. Wildlife

Response:

The USFS, AGFD, and Arizona Wildlife Federation agree with our analysis as discussed on the field trip. This analysis has been fully explained in the final EA. Helicopter impact has been added.

16. Cultural Resource

Response:

We are disappointed that the Parks cultural resource specialist did not coordinate with the BLM Area Archaeologist. Many of the concerns and issues raised in your comments could have been discussed and resolved at that time. We are fully aware of cultural resource regulations. Direct and indirect impacts have been and will continue to be assessed. During the course of our field assessment, BLM discovered the vandalism on the Park. The SHPO has been consulted and has concurred with our procedures for the haul road, powerline and mine yard. Additional data has been added to the final EA.

We are planning a meeting in Fredonia to discuss indirect impacts to cultural resources sometime this summer. Archaeologist of BLM, USFS, Grand Canyon National Park, Glen Canyon National Recreation Area and Abajo will be invited to discuss the issue.

- We are working with the SHPO as it relates to Pinenut. We are also conducting an inventory of areas deemed most highly susceptible to vandalism to identify significant sites, and insure that significant sites are periodically monitored. We do not see any significant differences between cultural resources on the Park or BLM administered lands. BLM has found many sites that do not qualify for the national register and the SHPO concurs. BLM believes there is a need for a coordinated interagency monitoring plan.

The SHPO has concurred with BLM that site AZ B:6:45 does not meet the criteria for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places. The site has been recorded and placed in the Discharged Use Category. AZ B:6:45 will be placed in the Public Use Category upon completion of the excavation.

17. Haul Roads.

Response:

Alternative 2 would not be in conformance with CFR 3809 regulations as it would result in undue and unnecessary degradation. Our analysis indicates that noise from the preferred haul route will not be audible from Kanab Point nor any other portion of the Park. Any dust related problems will be mitigated before it becomes noticeable in the Park.

I hope this has helped clear up some misunderstandings and pointed out the need for closer coordination on future issues.

You will have an opportunity to visit the Pinenut mine site at our interagency meeting in June. In addition, I would suggest that your staff contact the Vermillion Resource Area Manager (Rob Roudabush) and make arrangements to also visit the site.

I have enclosed copies of the final EA and Decision Record. If you have any additional concerns, please let me know.

Sincerely,

G. William Lamb

DECISION MINING CLAIMS DECLARED ABANDONED

The Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA) of 1976, 43 U.S.C. 1744, and the implementing regulations in 43 CFR 3833.2, require an annual filing for all mining claims recorded with the Bureau of Land Management. The Act provides that failure to file evidence of annual assessment work or a notice of intention to hold by December 30 each year shall be deemed conclusively to constitute an abandonment of the claim and it is void by operation of law. The constitutionality of Section 314 of FLPMA was upheld on April 1, 1985 by the United States Supreme Court in U.S. et al v. Locke et al, No. 83-1394.

The Bureau of Land Management records do not show receipt of either an affidavit of annual assessment work performed or a notice of intention to hold for the claims listed on the attached sheet during the year(s) cited.

If you did timely file an affidavit or notice of intention to hold with the Bureau of Land Management during the stated year(s), notify this office. Please furnish one of the following for each missing year: (1) a letter of acknowledgement from this office; (2) a postcard of acknowledgement (BLM Form 3830-1); (3) a copy of the affidavit showing the Bureau of Land Management date and time stamp; or (4) other evidence of receipt by our office.

Your proof must show the required documents were timely filed with the Bureau of Land Management for the year(s) shown as missing, otherwise, they will not be accepted. The evidence must be received in this office no later than 30 days from receipt of this decision. If the proof is not furnished during this 30 day period, the claim(s) listed will be removed from our records as abandoned and void.

RE: Claim Owner Name Change for Unpatented Mining Claims
Current: IUC Arizona Strip LLC
New: Denison Arizona Strip LLC
Mohave and Coconino Counties, Arizona

Dear Contract Representative:

Please be advised that there has been a claim owner name change for 36 unpatented mining claims located in Coconino County and Mohave County, Arizona. Such unpatented mining claims are listed on Exhibit A attached hereto. In connection therewith I have enclosed an Affidavit of Name Change for Coconino County and an Affidavit of Name Change for Mohave County which documents have been recorded in their respective County.

Please make the appropriate changes to the BLM mining claim records to reflect said claim owner name change and place a copy of the appropriate Affidavit of Name Change in the respective mining claim file. It is my understanding that the fee for such claim owner name change is $10.00 per mining claim. Therefore, I have enclosed a check in the amount of $360.00 (36 mining claims) to cover the cost of this claim owner name change. After making the appropriate changes to the BLM mining records, please return the two Affidavit of Name Change documents to the address set forth above.

Should you have any questions regarding this request, please call me on the number listed above. Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Sincerely yours,

WHITE LAND SERVICES, LLC
