Survey No 1496

36

Three methods for developing and working various claims in this group are the most economical and practical.

First: Tunnel No 2 of the Hillside lode to develop the Hillside, Massachusetts and Black Bird lodes by crosscutting at depth.

Second: The discovery shaft, of the Big White lode, described and included in the estimate of expenditure will, by crosscutting at depth furnish the most economical means of opening up the Contact No 2 and Big White lodes.

Third: The Morning Light and Sunshine lodes can be most advantageously and economically opened up and operated from shaft No 5 of the Sentinel lode, described and included in the estimate of expenditure.

Tunnel No 8 of the Sentinel lode, described and included in the estimate of expenditure will cross cut the Blue Bird and Horn Spoon lodes at depth and furnishes a cheap and ready means of developing these claims: likewise a drift to the North on the ledge which runs thro' the Sentinel and Morning Star lodes will also open up the latter claim most economically.

The discrepancies between the location certificates and the claims as located in this survey, namely the Sentinel, Morning Light, Blue Bird, Sunshine and Morning Star lodes, are due to errors of description in the latter former.

The Gold Pan lode has not been included in this survey.

This survey was made with a Gurley Light Mountain Transit. The courses were deflected from the true meridian

as determined by direct solar observation.
The distances were measured with a 100 ft. steel tape.
